

New York Stock Market

New York, August 7.—In its salient features to-day's stock market was virtually a repetition of the preceding days of the week. There was the usual irregular trend to prices, the same palpable professionalism and the same periodic movement in most of the speculative issues, except the anthracite shares.

Developments of the day included the declaration of cash and a stock dividend by the American Tobacco Company, an event that seemed to have been discounted by recent sales of the stock in that stock. In an event the shares declined immediately after the announcement of the directors was made known, and became increasingly weak later.

Trading was easily the principal feature, not only because of its activity but also notwithstanding United States' but by reason of its strong tone which later spread to Lehigh Valley, during the course of the day the coalers seemed to have had in something more substantial than mere speculation. Steel was heavy in the early dealings, but rose to toward the close. The entire market received a stronger tone in the final dealings.

The local money market was easier on further foreign and domestic offerings, with limited demand.

A letter was shown by the market manager, bond agent, that total sales per value amounted to $1,750,000 United States Government bonds were unchanged on call.

New York, August 7.—Money on call, $1,750,000; open market, falling rate of 1/4 cent; rates offered at 1/4 cent; interbank rates, 4/4 to 5/4 percent; ninety days, 5 1/2 to 6 percent; six months, 4 1/2 to 5 percent; class prime merchant paper, 5 percent; Sterling exchange, 14 1/2 cents for sixty-day bills and 14 1/4 cents for demand commercial bills, £185 7 3/4.
